

THE RESEARCH UNIVERSITY PRESS

International
Computational Law Journal

VOLUME 2 / ISSUE 4 / CURATED SOURCE EDITION

Idea Forum on Composable Governance

Dazza Greenwood

MIT Computational Law Report · Originally published 2022-06-29

Independent reader edition under CC BY 4.0, typeset from the publisher’s HTML text. Original linked media are not reproduced. Original authorship and source identity are retained. MIT, Stanford University, Stanford Law School and CodeX have not sponsored or endorsed this republication.

Source, license and version evidence accompany the online article.

Idea Forum on Composable Governance

Hosted by Dazza Greenwood, this special purpose session was convened by MIT Computational Law Report's Media Division to explore the idea of composable governance in the contexts of legal tech, business automation, and web3. The format was built around flash talks by invited speakers followed by discussion.

IdeaForum on Composable Governance 2022 06 29

The flash talks were given by:

* Joseph McKinney & Nathalie Mezza-Garcia, Catawba Digital Zone

* Nathan Schneider, Media Enterprise Design Lab @ CU Boulder

* Bryan Wilson, MIT Computational Law Report

* Brian Sanya Mondoh, BlockchainLex

* Dazza Greenwood, MIT Computational Law Report

* Michael Zargham, MetaGov, BlockScience

* Wassim Alsindi, MIT Computational Law Report

For more information on this idea forum, see: https://legalcomponents.github.io/ComposableGovernance and for the most up to date version of this page, see: https://law.mit.edu/pub/ideaforum-1

For reference, see also the ongoing work of the MIT Computational Law Report on the idea of Composable Governance. Also, see the session on Composable Governance at the Stanford Law "DAOs and Systems for Resilient Societies" event held on April 8th, 2022 in conjunction with the CodeX FutureLaw annual conference.

License: Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License (CC-BY 4.0)